“ hello grandpa its your favorite grandchild. I just want to tell you I miss you and love you very much, any time I watch cars, or monsters inc I think of you. We have been helping grandma and watching out for her while you watch over her she is slowly trying but she struggles daily its so unreal to any of us. she has been begging me to go through your things and I just cant bring myself to do it, but I have to I have been so strong and it breaks me but I know everything I am doing is for the better of grandma and my family and if it wasn't you wouldn't be letting me do it. I remember right after you passed we went into the bedroom and grandma goes these are all pictures of the most important person on your headboard and they were all me. we have a connection that was stronger then ever no I wasn't around much after I got way older and started working but every spare time I had I was there. I still am. I remember when we went to the monster jam and you were literally the happiest ever you can tell in a picture we have and when I took you to a baseball game I remember these moments as if they were yesterday. I have not been able to even talk about you because it hurts and it hurts everyone around we are grieving slowly but we will get by. I love you grandpa

“ It's been a month since the Lord called you home to be with him and our other family members. No dad I'm not mad at you and you didn't do something wrong. As you always asked! I just want you to know I miss you dad. I'm still doing our bucket list we made and I know you will be looking down on us on the opening day of baseball. Love you Dad untill we see each other again.
