“ Alice Lusko was my Great Grandma. She was literally the definition of the kind of woman i hope to be. Her faith strong, her hopes high, and continuous love to all of us. I will miss staying up late at night with her and making her delicious perogies. That was her favorite thing to do and honestly mine as well. but as the years went by she grew unable to make them so i'd try and help her. she guided me and i did the work and in the end we both shared a perogie together with a can of vernors. Thank you so much grandma for molding me into the woman i want to be. You will be missed greatly but we all know you are finally home and happy and dancing in the streets paved of gold. I love you so much <3

“ My love for Grandma is so immense that words cannot describe it. Grandma was such an amazing woman. Simply put, she was one of my best friends. Patient, kind, loving, caring, giving, funny, humble. Those are only a few special words to describe her. There are so many more. As I continue living my life, I will think of all of those qualities that she possessed and I will try my best to imitate them. She taught us all what love was made of. I thank God for blessing me with Grandma and also for the memories I get to cherish in my heart. Grandma may have had to go, but her love remains in my heart forever. She will surely be missed.

“ I only got to spend a short time with her but the first day we met she told me to call her grandma Lusko, even though she was my aunt Arlene's mom. We made her famous perogis and had so much fun together. I will always remember this and cherish the short time we spent together. She was such a wonderfully loving woman and touched everyone's heart. I know that she is surrounded by family and can't wait to join that reunion. Love and prayers to all those who she loved and touched.

“ Alice was my grandmother and I was her first granddaughter. Some of my favorite memories of Gram were just spending time at her home. I would spend the night and we would make all sorts of goodies from her family favorite of perogi's to making up ice cream sundaes late at night and watching Johnny Carson. As I grew older just spending time with grandma talking about the return of Jesus was one of her favorite topics. We would speculate how it might look and she would say "Oh my goodness won't that be wonderful". Although she won't be here for Jesus' return, she will be waiting for us and I can imagine her saying "Oh my goodness IT IS SO WONDERFUL!!". Love and miss you, but so look forward to that day when we will be together again. Vicky Ordowski
