“ Every minute someone leaves this world behind.
We are all in “the line” without knowing it.
We never know how many people are before us.
We can not move to the back of the line.
We can not step out of the line.
We can not avoid the line.
So while we wait in line -
Make moments count.
Make priorities.
Make the time.
Make your gifts known.
Make a nobody feel like a somebody.
Make your voice heard.
Make the small things big.
Make someone smile.
Make the change.
Make love.
Make up.
Make peace.
Make sure to tell your people they are loved.
Make sure to have no regrets.
Make sure you are Ready ~👉

“ Sometimes what you feel is so much deeper than words can express ...

Sometimes it's better to allow the sands of time to gently cover these feelings in the quiet spaces of your heart, and wait for the same soft Wind to at once and timely, uncover them and carry them to the beautiful planes of perfect understanding ...

💡 🎵 my Grandpa he took us kids for Ice cream, I remember I was fascinated about the bubble gum in the ice cream, He drove a big old Truck 🚚 t I sat on his lap driving the steering wheel🔍🌈 no seat belts 😊💕 Many Good times spent there. Almost every other summer I flew out there spent a lot of time In the pool watching the lightening in the sky. Weather was always so hot and muggy. Sending warm vibes sunshine 😊 write back

It saddens me to read things like this. Memories are real and about the good times you spent with them. I've known the family for a long time. This is simply not true. It baffles me how someone can write that this happened. A post saying you met him once is the truth. I would never disrespect the family of a person that has passed. You keep holding down the fort in heaven and we will keep your memories alive down here. Miss your smile!
