“ My father, Alex J. McClellan, worked with Art at the Port Huron Fire Department for many years and very much liked and respected him. I remember visiting with Art on my many stops at the fire hall and I felt the same way. He was a wonderful man! I last ran into him at Kroger's on 24th Street a few years ago and we talked and reminisced for a few moments. I am very sorry for your loss.

“ Art was a wonderful man. I remember when my son was young, he let him sit in the fire truck, honk the horn and showed him around the fire hall. That truly made my son happy. I used to run into Art and his friend Dick when we all got out of work about the same time. A cold beer was in order. I will surely miss him. God's blessings to his family.
