“ I am so proud that we became friends many years ago. You made every day better. You were a warrior but a kind one who knew how to smile. I always felt better and stronger after talking with you.

“ My condolences to Bens surviving family members. Ben was a regular at our house all through the 70's and 80's. He was larger than life with a huge heart. Always there for my brother right up to the end of his life in 1996. Rest well Ben.

“ Memories..... as far back as I can remember. There were six of us cousins, all a year apart. I was the oldest, Julie the youngest. We grew up together through the years and all the phases of life. It's hard to believe that we 'grew Old'. 🙄. Ben was one of a kind. Warrior and Teddy Bear. Fierce and strong, gentle and kind. He loved.... people, especially the children. They brought light and joy into his world. He delighted in all that they did and his sense of protection for them was unmatched. One had a feeling of calm and ease when Ben was around. He did love to tell his stories, lol. He had many and made them all believable. So many memories I will keep in my heart always. I will miss you dearly Big Ben. My prayers will be constant. With love from cousin Mary Lynn

Offering my heartfelt condolences to Auntie Marge, Shawn, Julie and all of Ben's loved ones. When I remember Ben, I picture him with a big smile on his face. From way back when we were kids, Ben seemed to always be smiling. He cared deeply about people and was quick to offer assistance to those in need. He brought his own special light to the world through his generosity of spirit. He was an engaging storyteller and could make you feel like you were actually there with him, on Mount Everest for example. Remember that one?! I love my cousin who did so much for so many people in his short life. I look forward to meeting up with Ben again one day and hearing what he has enjoyed so far on the other side. In this life, Ben will be sadly missed and fondly remembered as Mary said, a big, strong, gentle giant with an enormous heart to match. I'll be praying for you Auntie Marge, Shawn, and Julie that God will comfort you in the days ahead. Tears really are a language God understands. He does give peace that passes all understanding. Cousin Bev
