“ My father Stanley Ashcraft has known Cal since they were children in a neighborhood on the east side of Detroit. There wasn't a better friend to my dad than Cal, particularly in recent years. He called my dad often to see how he was doing and to reminisce about the good ol' days. He and Joyce would drive to visit my mom and dad in Plymouth, Michigan and they would enjoy a delicious meal at Three Brothers Restaurant. My mom thought the world of Cal and she would frequently tell me what a loving, caring husband he was to Joyce. I know my dad will miss Cal, but our family will be sure to keep him in our prayers.

“ Cal was a very special man and we were blessed with the opportunity to make wonderful memories with him. He had many great stories, a great sense of humor, and a heart of gold. You could not pull the wool over Cal's eyes, he was much smarter than who he was talking to. I had a picture of us together at the FOE when Nichole and I were riding the horses. It has been lost with the transition of cell phones through the years. The picture will forever remain in my heart and stamped in my memory. Thank you for being you Cal and giving us a friendship we can never forget. R.I.P., we love you!

“ Cal was such a great part of my childhood, growing up on the boat and traveling with my parents -- he and Joyce treated me like I was one of them, even though I was just a kid -- and were two of the kindest, easygoing and generous people I've ever had the pleasure to have in my life. I will always cherish the memories of "KLINGDOM" and the "DAN-DEE-JOY". On behalf of the Kling Family, we send our heartfelt sympathy for the entire Roemer family. Rest in Peace, Cal!

“ Cal Roemer, the name my family would hear; as my father Bob Fedelem spoke of him often. They all grew up together as kids and shared friendships throughout the many years of their lifetime. My father shared Cal's birthday video tape with us and I still have it and I do watch it every now and then. He had an Irish singer in his backyard and every friend Cal had was at his birthday that day long ago. He was one of the nicest friends that my dad had and I will never forget his kind spirit and true friendship he gave to my dad and everyone he met. Rest in peace and may God bless.
