“ I pray the people in the world become less selfish as my Uncle Carl was. He loved and gave unconditionally to all the lives he touched. People today could learn a lot from the way he lived his life. Rest in peace with Aunt Rose.

PS

“ I condole the loss of Carl. This Paul Steinborn. I lived around the corner from Carl and Rosie (that's what I called her) for 28 years, at 1021 9th St. Carl and Rosie were thoughtful neighbors. Carl would see to it that I received tomatoes from their garden every fall season. He would run the snowblower behind our properties so that we could get our vehicles out. Always a gentlemen. Friendly smile, a firm handshake. The last time I saw him, I stopped in for a visit-- Fred was in the backyard putting stain on the fence. Though we had not seen one another for a few years, Carl knew immediately who I was, and we had a nice, albeit short visit. They only made one Carl.

I hope that my memory gives you, survivors, a smile during this time of loss.

*Regards,
Paul Steinborn*
