“ Lots of happy memories growing up with Sugar and her sister Honey! I remember visiting at your house. Your mother always had a "home made, just baked" Sanders or Awreys cake to serve to our family! We had many adventures together - mainly traveling out west together, camping along the way! We also flew to Las Vegas to enjoy the shows (and maybe just a bit of gambling!). Unfortunately, we drifted apart as we got older, and I left the area when I got married. Glad we were able to see you at the nursing home after your stroke when your health was better. It's good to know you're not in pain anymore, and hopefully walking around heaven exploring again!

Your cousin,
Lorraine

“ Aunt Sugar always had an infectious laugh and a compassionate soul. I'm sure she's the best version of herself now in the next world, hanging out and laughing with Kathleen!

Love,
~Sara

“ Carol "Sugar" Fydryk was my younger sister. When we were kids, someone, somehow gave us the nicknames, Honey and Sugar, and those nicknames have stuck with us all these years. We even have a donor brick with our names, "Honey & Sugar Fydryk" embedded in the Detroit Riverfront Walkway (near the carousel, if it's still there),

She was a wonderful caregiver for our mom, Adele, after her stroke until she died, then cared for our dad, Casimir, until his death in 1996.

She was the bridesmaid at Gerry and my wedding in California, and enjoyed visiting us wherever we lived in Rhode Island, Connecticut, and finally Northern Virginia

After her stroke in 2015, she was confined to the Medilodge nursing home. Her myriad of health issues progressed to where she finally left this earth to join our angel daughter, Kathleen, in heaven. I'm sure Kathleen is playing her guitar, singing her a song, and welcoming Aunt Sugar to her party in heaven!
