“ Car, I remember how much fun we had last September, when we spent a week together in Trenary. We reminisced about the olden days and we laughed about the time when we were both so pregnant, we went to Denny's for breakfast and we had to get a table because we could not fit in a booth. The three of us loved the sausage gravy breakfasts you used to cook for us. We also have great memories of riding the quad bikes on your farm in Ruby. We love you Carrie Lynn, Tom and Maggi

“ Not enough nice words to describe how special Carrie always was. So proud and caring of her siblings and happy when they were all able to be together. She always made me aware of how much she cared. She sent me many beautiful cards. So thoughtful! She will be so missed. A very special niece. We had some very special times. Aunt Bev

“ I will never forget you, old friend. From the days of teenage mischief to middle age, you were always frank but honest, practical, kind-hearted. I remember the kindness you showed to my daughter and niece after they lost their fathers, taking time to send them rocks, minerals and geological samples from your club treks, to support their interest in that, and just being there for your friends. You looked so great for your age that it is a shock to realize the health problems you have been living with. You left us too soon, and I regret that I did not get to see you again. I'll see you in the next place, girl. May God send peace and comfort to your family. You will be missed.
I'll see you in the next place, where no one suffers.
Goodbye, Carrie.
Love,

“ *Old St. Mary's church is just across the street,
so I went and lit a real candle for Carrie Lynne. This is always so miserably difficult for those that our loved ones leave behind. So I hope you will find comfort - even if only a hint
- in knowing that I and many, many others are sharing in your loss.
My deepest sympathies to all. Carrie touched many and she'll be missed by all. She was something else! :-)*

“ It took about a second after Carrie was gone to fully understand all that I had lost in that moment. She was a wonderful sister, friend, confidant and partner in crime. Carrie was very loyal, loving whom you loved, disliking whomever did you wrong and willing to help as best she could if you needed anything. As I look at all the pictures being posted from her family, I see her smile was always the biggest of all ours, almost laughing in many of them. I see now that she understood more than any of us the importance of time with family and friends, all the other stuff is just the filler. Being there for Carrie these past few hard months allowed opportunity for deep talks and a new closeness. I remember the all years before that she was there supporting me and my little family. Even in the hospital at every visit, as ill as she was, she asked how each of my kids were and what they were up to. As I struggle to find the new normal, I will try to remember only the good times as there were too many to count. Love you Carrie and I will miss you every day.

“ Dear mom, I love you so very much, and miss you so much already. You were the best mother anyone could ever ask for. you stuck by my side no matter what, and were always there for me. You were a spitfire and, so very strong and strong willed, with a heart as big as the sun. I'll always cherish our time together, all the things you taught me, all the love you showed me and my son. Cameron loves and misses you terribly. You were the glue that kept everything together and everything about you will be missed. Although i'm beyond sad that you are gone, i'm glad you're not hurting anymore. I'm sure your up there with grandma, uncle marshall and everyone else we've lost looking down and watching over us all.....maybe sitting on a beach somewhere having a cup of coffee and a smoke watching the sunrise.....god i miss you!.....we'll see each other again....I love you mom

Love always,
