“ I remember when we were just kids in the middle of the night my mom was driving and my dad kept jumping out of the car to fight the mailboxes everytime I think about it I smile and say, that's my stubborn ass dad. I've put the man through so much since mom passed away though I was shocked we were still close when I finally got my shit together. There is one other memory of when Uncle jack came out here and dad made him hang out of the window to take pictures of the strip said he wasn't stopping and so Uncle jack did just that. There are so many memories I have of my dad good and not so funny, either way I love him and miss him so much. I love him wish he was here never was told anything that he was dying threw me for a loop.
