“ Our brother would always says to us in conversation, "I've got trials and tribulations" we always knew what he meant . His road through life was not always the best choice but you could always count on him as a got your back kind of guy. We his sister's gave him a run at life and had fun doing it while growing up . The last words spoken to each of us was "tell my sister I love her" ..Our brother knew and heard us tell him how much we loved him and how proud we were to say, this is our brother..Dear brother your trials and tribulations are over now, all we ask of you now is to have our backs and watch over us all.

Your Sisters,
Sandy and Linda
