Tribute Wall

“ I am Cindy’s oldest son. This hurts to even write this, but mom led the best life she could. I’m going to miss even the simple joy of cooking a meal with her. I’m going to miss the unprompted road trips we did when I was growing up, and the yard sales we would go to seemingly every other week. The photo I am sharing is from one of my previous trips home, when we all went to a random beach in late March of 2011.
