“David was a gentle soul. I admired him for his loyalty, dedication and commitment to his family and his long time job. I also admired his love of nature and all God's fury and feathered creatures and his thorough knowledge of history.

In the end, Dave faced the adversity he had to deal with in a calm and courageous manner.

I thank God that Dave's wishes were granted meaning hat his passing was shortly after learning his fate and that most importantly, it was a very peaceful departure from our perspective.

My prayer for Phyllis, Dawn, Jill, Amy and all his grandchildren is that they will find comfort in knowing his body is completely healthy again, that he is with the Lord Jesus and our Father God and reunited with all those who preceeded him in their journey to eternal life. I pray that they find solace in knowing he lives on in each and everyone of them. Just like a piece of each of them went with him, a piece of him remains in all who loved him. And, the seperation is merely temporary. We will all meet up again, one by one, as God calls us home, in HIS time, not ours.

Sending God's blessings and love to everyone as they begin their journey through their grief.

Thoughts and prayers to continue.

*Love to all,
Dawn*
