“ I will miss our long talks on the phone and picking on each other about who has the better weather. I will miss listening to you fondly talk about the past and being able to share with you triumphs in my life and how proud we are of the girls. Distance never mattered to us and you were always there. Words can not express the emptiness that is left without you here.

Love you always,
Kimmy

“ My fondest memory of my grandmother is how she was always full of love. Not a single person that she meet walked away without some food in their belly, something to drink and a hug to send them on their way wishing them safe travels. She was my hero. She was someone who showed me how to be brave, strong and still being very loving and kind. Whenever I had troubles in my life she always gave the best advice and she was full of wisdom. I shall miss her hugs, her soft voice, her laughter and most of all I will miss how loved she made us all feel. I know that I shall see her again one day and I know when I do she will have a huge hug for me, offer me some food and share lots of stories and laughs with me. It will be another great moment with my grandma. Til then I have the most wonderful memories to look back on and the most amazing feeling of love to last a lifetime.
