Don was born June 18, 1933 in Port Huron, Michigan. He was the son of Cecil and Mabel Mortimer. December 28, 1968 was the day Don became Donna Mortimer's husband and the father of Linda (Michael) Murray and Richard (Donna) Harrington.

After his graduation from Port Huron High School in 1951; Don enrolled at Port Huron Junior College where he graduated in 1953. After school He enrolled in the U.S Army from 1954 to 1956.

Don retired in June, 1995. The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary kept Don busy through much of his retirement. He served as Flotilla Commander, Vice Commander and Division Captain for several year. For over 20 years he was busy, teaching classes, attending meetings and doing boat inspections. Don was a firm believer in boating safety and education. He spent many, many hours teaching Boater Safety classes for the Auxiliary and The Port Huron Power Squadron. Don and Donna were avid boaters and spent many, many hours on Michigan lakes and rivers. When they were not on the water or doing Auxiliary things, he enjoyed dinners with his family. Sunday dinners with the Grandkids were always a special time for him.
