“ Grandma its hard to believe your flying with the angels now and have made it up to the golden gates. When you smile its contagious, your presence calming and your love is overwhelming. I will miss you so much, give great grandma love for me. All the people you were missing up in heaven your now able to see a reunion with so much love and your at peace. I can remember when we came to visit and we would have bonfires and go fishing just enjoying each others company it was always a great time. Fishing sure does run deep in our veins. Please watch over us all, ill be waiting to see you in my dreams!

“ Hello Grandma, This is your grand daughter Nichole. It still doesn't feel real that your gone, but I am glad you are reunited with your mother and your brothers. Tell them all hello from me. We have so many memories, I remember when I was little and you shared a room with us girls. We thought that was so cool. I was so fascinated with that light up mirror. You used to get a kick out of us girls. I loved doing Karoke with you and Papa. I also remember you chasing us with your false teeth. The funny stories you told us girls and we still laugh about them to this day. The secret that you have with me to this day. I remember your potbelly put you had in your basement as a pet and all types of other animals that you have had over the years. You sure were an animal lover. I remember how you loved collecting dream catchers. I still remember expressions on your face and your laugh. I really miss having girl talk with you and my sisters. Tell Bear and Hacksaw Hello for me. I am now left here with memories and pictures to cherish. Remember you will always be with all of us. Right here in our hearts. We love you 💙 Until next time we meet again. Enjoy your time in Heaven with our family that is there with you. Hugs and Kisses sent your way.

“ Grandma I love you and miss you so much. I have a lot of fond memories with you as a child that I will hold on to and cherish forever. You were such a fun and caring person. I remember getting to your dress clothes and playing dress up, singing Patsy Cline and the Drifters on your karoke machine and your potato chip cookies. Im so sorry we fell out of touch when I moved out of state. I wish I got to say goodbye and talk to you one last night. Until we meet again. Love your granddaughter, Heather
