“ Prayers, love, and heartfelt sympathy goes out to all the Szasz's. I am going to share a few things about Fred that if you knew him, you already know. Being some what shy when comes to entering and leaving a crowd and wishing I could slide in and slide out unnoticed didn't happen if Fred was around, he would hunt you down to give that sweet embrace and make you feel welcome when you came, and see to it you had a hug on the way out with the feeling he was going to miss you until next time. Sometimes I think that was his favorite part of any family gathering, and with him a gathering could be a party of one, or more. One of the things my children remember most about him was the massive fire he built at the corn roast one year that started with a bang, and soon after the fire department showed up at his door step, they thought their dad built big fires until that day. One of his favorite sayings I always heard him say was "if it's free it's for me, if I have to pay it can stay", every time I use the phrase his face with that grin of his comes to mind. So Fred here is a ((hug)) from me to you, because you are going to be missed until next time, and I know where you will be, in heaven because you got in for free.

“ Thank you my love for the 35 years of marriage we shared,thank you for never giving up on us when we stumbeld... The journey was one of strength and love and I am forever grateful to have been blessed by your presence..all though I feel lost and my heart is shattered, you left me in good hands with our children and the grand babies. You are truly a kind soul that touched everyone you met. I'm going to miss the road trips and humorous moments we had during our life time together. Thank you for holding me up and catching me when I would fall and just being there beside me. Your a great father, husband and papa. Our lives have forever changed but my love will continue on for you. Your faith was strong and I know you have joined the rest by now, I found comfort knowing you did not fear death. There isn't enough words to say how grateful i am that god blessed me with you... Love you always, your wife linda?????????

“ Fred, I guess your time here taking care of everyone you knew was done. Besides Dad, you were the most influential man in my life, and you meant the world to me. Your love was unconditional. We used to have a whole lot of fun doing projects together, or maybe it was just me having the fun. You taking the time to teach and I would pelt you with a million questions. Hopefully I will remember everything you taught me. Your favorite question was; why. You always wanted me to explain how I came to a conclusion. My favorite question “What would Fred do?” has gotten me through many dilemmas in the past, and will continue to do so in the future. You told me once that you were never afraid, that it is a waste of time. I admired that quality, and that was just one of many great qualities you had. You didn’t like it when people said it, but I’m going to anyways, you were the most loyal, honest, trustworthy, hardworking, strong, intelligent, and caring person. I told you before that you had touched so many people’s lives in a positive way. I think you might believe me now with the love and support your family is getting. You were loved so much, and now will be greatly missed. Give Dad one of your awesome hugs for me. Love you always.

“ Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to the Szasz family. The abrupt, tragic death of their beloved husband, supportive father, gentle papa has saddened us beyond words. Thank you for your gentle words of wisdom, hours of entertaining Julia at Home Depot and Salvation Army. For building the chicken coops, putting up with the turtle, and countless strays that called your compound home. You have truly left your mark on our lives. Until we meet again....Love, Ed and Sharon Lashier (a.k.a. Nana and Papa Ed)
