“ I will forever be grateful to Mom for raising such a wonderful son. The love she showed him helped him to grow to be a wonderful man, and a wonderful husband, and with her guidance and example, she helped him grow into a spiritual man who loves his God Jehovah just as she did. Mom was a self-sacrificing woman who always put others needs above her own. The world lost a genuine sincere person when mom fell asleep in death, but she knew this sleep was temporary and that soon we'll pick up where we left off, and boy oh boy, the stories we'll have to tell each other!!! Until then, she is safe in Jehovah's memory and always in our thoughts and in our hearts. We miss and love you Mom, Darlene

“ To the beloved family and friends of the DeBoyer family,

Please accept my heartfelt condolences. It is never easy to say goodbye, even temporarily, to one so loved. How comforting it is to know that Jehovah, “the God of all comfort” (2 Corinthians 1:3, 4), is close to you now and will continue to sustain you. The love and faithfulness that Sister DeBoyer showed will not be forgotten by Jehovah, for “God is not unrighteous so as to forget your work and the love you showed for his name” (Hebrews 6:10).

When we reflect on Jesus’ words at John 11:25, 26—that “the one who exercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life”—we are reassured that death is not the end. Jehovah has promised a resurrection, and we can look forward with confidence to the time when “death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore” (Revelation 21:4). What a reunion it will be when Jehovah, through his Son, awakens our loved ones from sleep.

May you find comfort in these promises and strength in the warm support of the congregation. Please know that many of your brothers and sisters are keeping you in their prayers, trusting that Jehovah’s peace that surpasses all understanding will guard your hearts and minds (Philippians 4:7).

With love and Christian solidarity,
