“ The amazing turnout for your Memorial was a true testament to the person you were, you obviously touched the lives of many people. Over and over I heard how you helped out someone in need, how much you loved your family and friends, and what a firecracker you were! I was able to witness that fierce and deep love you had for your grandchildren, and how you stepped in to do whatever they needed - whenever they needed it. For that reason, I know you are not truly gone as you will for certain maintain your role as a fierce protector and guardian angel for your grandkids, family, and friends. It's going to be a long journey for everyone to grieve and process your loss as many hearts are broken. I pray that they can find peace and comfort in sharing stories and memories together of you, often, and with smiles as they recall the times shared with you. I also pray that you find peace in your new home, I know you fought to stay here with your family, but that was not to be. You left this Earth far too soon Gail, and left big shoes to fill. You'll be organizing parties and get togethers now in Heaven. Sprinkle some of your secrets down to your family when you can, so they all hold together and remain united. 💖
