“ George was a really awesome guy.. Him and I only hung out for a short time, but we parted on not such great terms. Its funny how looking back, the only thing that matters is the time that we share with people. You cant take anything with you when you leave.. All of the material and monetary possessions mean absolutely anything. I miss you dude!!! You would be proud 😞☐

“ I know it's way after the fact. In my defense I didn't find out till way later. George was friends with my ex, Steven cheek who also passed. They were best friends at one point. We spent a lot of time together. George was a deep person, but loyal friend. He was truthful/blunt, 🗨️ sometimes people don't need things sugar coated. We lost touch, but I do know he desired to do right. Life is hard and he will always hold a special place in my heart.
