“ Mom Watson, I am so saddened by the passing of Dad Watson, as I look back on the memories that I shared with the family, the camping trips the over night stays the rides on the cart with Suzy and him it all brings tears to my eyes, Then I still hear him telling me the joke "M R Ducks, M R Not, O S M R C M Wangs" and I chuckle. He was an amazing person so much a part of my life. He will be missed by many and always in the hearts of those he touched. I love you Mom

“ Grant,
Thank you for all your help with my amateur radio(s). I was so proud when you received your Extra license earlier this year. Glad we had the library book. Thanks for visiting almost every week at the library and comparing bowling scores, or to just "shoot the breeze". A final '73 to a fine amateur radio operator who was no amateur but a true friend.

“ Grant remember you and I learned how to use a ditch witch putting electrical to garage in St. Clair, but thought Elaine was going to have heart attack when you accidently run it up wall of house, but we patched it laughing our tails off every time she mentioned it last 40 years! There ere many other good times spent together ducky buddy! Only few people know this inside joke! Love you Bro and will always miss you!

“ I was sitting here a few nights ago thinking about Grant and some of the funny and wonderful times over the years. I remember the time when I was backing out of the stone street driveway and the snow was so high both sides I unfortunately backed into Grants truck. I dented his door in badly and wasn't quite sure how to tell him, but found the courage to tell him and being the guy he was he forgave me. There were many good times over the years and we will miss him a lot. Here's to you Grant a great guy and a great brother -in-law. Will miss you a lot!! Love Elaine

“ Grant Watson was my grandfather. I remember our trips camping, going to huckleberry railroads and going to fort michilimac and making home watching a wedding with me. He was an amazing grandfather. I will always remember him and have him in my heart. I am glad he is not going to suffer and can be in heaven with my aunt. To infinity and beyond.
