“ There's never a day that goes by that I don't think about you. I think about all the memories that I've taken for granted. We've all taken our memories with you for granted
It's who we are. We can't really appreciate something until it's gone. And I appreciate you. I miss you. I miss your smile, your laugh, how your face lit up when you saw your grandchildren. You were always genuinely happy. I have never saw you angry or stressed. I believe you lived your purpose and you were sent home because you completed what you were here to do. Cancer shouldn't have been part of the deal but you came to terms with it and you were at peace with it. And although your body grew weak your spirit stayed strong and once you shed your shell you flourished. You became something you desired to be in the afterlife. An angel. To be more precise, you are my guardian angel. My protector. But most importantly of all you are my hero. I love you Grandma Joanne ❤️ If I ever need someone to talk to I know I can count on you. I know you'll answer my questions even if I can't hear them. I won't be listening with my ears I will be listening with my heart. 🙏💕🙏

“ Our time together was too short. We searched for each other our whole lives. From the moment we reunited, I knew it was your prayers that brought me through the struggles of this life and I was immediately complete when you first held me... I found myself loved unconditionally by one of the most beautiful souls I have ever met. I am proud to say this amazing woman is my oldest sister and I am eternally grateful to our Lord for the 12 months of memories made. I can't imagine life without her now. I know that she will be waiting for me when my time comes to leave this world behind. She made me a better woman and strengthened my faith to a level I didn't think possible. I love you, Joanne... and I'll see you soon. You will forever be near my heart. Thank you.

“ My mom had a beautiful soul and was not afraid to use it! With a simple, but effective wisdom she added value to every life she touched. I really couldn't have asked for a better mother and teacher. She was an integral part of a community of family, friends, and coworkers and always remained a positive and humble person that was guided by her faith in God and her love for the people she cared about. She will forever be my hero and her legacy of love and charity will never be forgotten.

“ My heart is filled with sadness with the news of JoAnne's passing. I know she is rejoicing in heaven with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I came to know JoAnne through our women's Bible study group. A beautiful lady of grace whose faith never wavered. My sincere condolences to her family and friends. May the love of God surround and comfort you during this time of sorrow. Jane Borotrager

“ My friend and sister in Christ was a beautiful, strong woman with a positive attitude through all the adversity in her life. She was ready to meet the Lord and even at the end of her fight with cancer her concerns were for her family. She was more than a sweet person, she was a woman of grace and love. I will miss her much until the day we see each other in heaven. Love to her family. Connie McCombs
