“ John was a kind and considerate man and a family man. He would talk about his family with great love and the sacrifices he endured for them. I seen him in March and he was growing his hair out and losing weight and he said the hair growth was for his son he was becoming a rocker. The weight loss was because he was eating better and not eating meat and he said he never felt better. He had away of effecting everyone he met in a positive way. I can remember how he would say goodbye to someone he met, He would say: "have a blessed day". John you were a blessing and you had an affect on me and everyone you came across. I pray for your family and know that you will still be there for them. Have a blessed Day. Bill

“ One phone call i will never forget! Love you Crow, things will never be the same. I have so many memories i'm very thankful for however it will make birthdays,BBQ's ect much harder not having you put your arm around my shoulders at the grill and saying hey Kell let me take this over, hey kell how's life,hey Kell looking a little old aint you lol ugh I will miss this man! I remember being little and him coming to my dad asking him if it was ok to marry Aunt Lu my dad's response was "Brother-in-law your already family but hell yeah you can marry my sister" John Crow was family from the 1st day and everything he did for the Ridge family he did out of Love. He loved everyone and would give his last breath to make someone else happy and smile. He had the most genuine heart and no one could ever discredit his name. He was the most hard working, loyal, loving, devoted man I had ever know and the single most important thing that makes my heart have peace is that he was A MAN OF GOD! I know i will sit with him again one day(after he kicks me off the grill lol) and enjoy a bbq dinner. My prayers are with Aunt Lu, Chandler, Johnnie & all who loved him...shoot who couldn't love this giant teddy bear! Till we meet again...I LOVE YOU! I know the Ridge boys & Grandma are happy to see you again...Brother-in Law, Fred, Crow names now the heavens will know :-)

“ Oh to see your smiling face again....we shared some laughs, we shared some tears....many memories of the times you came into Shepherd's to visit your loving wife, Lu. My heart goes out to all of you! Please know that you are all in my thoughts, and prayers! God must have needed an extra angel in heaven, to take you so soon! We, who have been left behind, will pull together, and help where it is needed, especially at this time. Know that your love will live on, through your children....many memories will be shared, a lot of tears will be shed, for you sir, were one in a million! Rest in Peace John....much love to you all! “ I met John years ago when I sold Insurance at Allstate..we met up again when he started doing the fire inspections for the schools..its like we didn't miss a beat. I saw him in the fall and he was telling me all about his family and how proud he was of them. Such a nice guy! I'll miss our conversations..I was guaranteed to have one at least once a year! My heart is so heavy for your family! He was one of a kind!
