“ John was an amazing man
He was kind, loving and forgiving.
John was dedicated to the world and the people in it .
His dream ,goals and desires were to make our world better.
A man with a Genius mind , was much like Einstein
.Visions and dreams beyond most of our thoughts and he liked to share them .
Sometimes people would get annoyed with that because he would talk on and on and on and on ,and that was OK because what he had to say was always good things ,and they made good common sense .
He loved his children he loved his grandson and sisters big time.
Always talked about his family and how he wished they could spend more time together, but life moves fast and just a blink, it's gone.
It's Unfortunate he had to leave so soon.

In his his last days he looked forward with the hope he could go to ,Paradise Michigan and pick blueberries ,I know, sounds crazy but he loved blueberries! And , Paradise Michigan.

A man of strength , wisdom and Love.

John was my Mentor, my very best friend in the whole wide world
