“ Dad, I really appreciate all of your help with my life. I will always be your little sponge 🧽... I remember the times we, worked on 🚚 engine's. I'm going to try and think about the good memories. A very wise man told me to do that. It really helps. I know that you missed Mom each and everyday. Well your with mom again. May God bless and keep you always.

“ Dad loved the Tigers and Red Wings, sitting in the hot sun, and his cats. But most of all he loved Mom. He has missed her every day. Now they are finally back together. Peace and love forever.

“ I miss you dad. You're my hero and I will always be your little sponge. I also know how you have longed to be with mom again. Well now you are again together and it is a good thing. I will always have you in my heart along with mom. Even though I know that you have no suffering and all happiness, it still doesn't make me miss you less! The only thing that I can do is think of all the good memories and that will get me through it. A very wise man told me that..... I love you Dad...
