“ You made me the person I am today. The mother that I am to my own children. The love that was always unconditional. Im so proud of the strength you showed over the past year,your fight for life, they way you loved life and cared for other people. Always putting ither people first. I dont think I can do this, Mom it hurts so bad. the song just 5 more minutes came on after you passed when i was in my car. What I wouldn't do for that.
