“ May you Rest in Peace in the comfort of Jesus' arms, even with the knowledge that your final days were taken from God's WILL and placed in the hands of others. Prayers of strength and comfort to the family, especially the granddaughter that never had the chance to say "goodbye" or the great-grandson Lyle never got to meet.

the bitterness that once was there ,was put away to be no more,the first day I came to visit you ,as you grew tired, I went to leave, to let you rest,you took ahold of my hand and said "stay" you said I love you son , I said I love you dad ,I knew that I was going to do whatever I could from that moment on to help you and be near you. the time was short ,that we had left together,but all in all your courage and your strength got you way further than what was first said. our time on earth is in GODS hands and no man can ever change that ,even when just for a moment your fate was decided another way,GOD said lyle is my son in whom I am well pleased,he wrapped his arms around you as he took you home,he said the pain and suffering are over ,he wasn't allowing any more,GOD is real as we all know for he continues to bless my sister starr even now , by making sure on her first birthday away from us all ,she would spend this day with both of her dads by her side. dad you fought a battle that was given to you, and by GOD taking you out of the situation you were in ,you were then able to pass away with the dignity you deserved,you have earned your wings , now soar high in the heavens above ,GOD has opened the gates to let you in ,starr and terry will show you around ,as well as so many others who have earned their wings ,rest now - enjoy paradise that GOD has made , until we are all joined together again some day ,we will forever love and miss you, and you will forever remain in our hearts . love your son Robert ,laurie and family
