“ I don't even know where to begin but I have to try...
Lynette was the most amazing woman I have ever known. I admired her courage, strength, humor, determination, and beautiful soul. I loved every inch of her and all her quirky ways. I will have an empty place in my heart for the rest of my life and cannot imagine loving someone more. She lived with us for the last 6 months and even showed my 16 yr old son what a strong, beautiful woman looks like and he has grown from that as well.
If only...

“ I was in the Continental Flight Attendant class 0716 with Lynette and we became friends. After graduating all but one member of our class was stationed in Newark NJ. Lynette and I along with several others from our class moved into the same "crash pad" which housed about 25 people. We lived there for about six weeks then several of us got our transfers to Houston, TX. Lynette and I shared an apartment in Kingwood for about a year. It was during that time that I learned of Lynette's love for motorcycles, fitness, and adventure. I'm so sad to find out her life has ended at such a young age. I pray that her friends and family will find some peace in loving memories of fun, happy times with Lynette.

“ Lynette, my sister, my dear friend ... I will forever bare an empty space in my heart knowing I can never again have you as my 'partner in crime' here on this earth... We made so,so many amazing and fun memories filled with so much laughter over the years and I will cherish each and every one as long as I live! I always imagined us old and still making crazy, fun memories because no matter how long since we last seen each other.. When we finally got together again, We'd recall all the great times we shared in tears of laughter and then plan our next adventure... No matter what we did together we always had a blast! I will hold those memories close to my heart until I see you again my friend...love ya all my days sweet cheeks! Xo
