“ I was blessed to have Mrs. Lukatch as my 5th grade religious teacher at St. Margaret, and her influence has stayed with me ever since.

She had a special way of making faith feel real and meaningful, even to a classroom full of kids. She was patient, kind, and deeply devoted, and it showed in how she taught and cared for each of us. Her lessons went beyond the classroom—they helped shape how we understood kindness, compassion, and what it means to live our faith.

I will always remember the sense of comfort and guidance she brought to our class. She created an environment where we felt supported and encouraged, and that made a lasting impression on me. She was funny, kind and generous.

I am truly grateful to have learned from her at such an important time in my life. Mrs. Lukatch was more than a teacher—she was a steady and caring presence I would always look for her at church. Her impact will not be forgotten.

May she rest in peace.

“ Beloved Aunt Marcia, go and join Uncle John, he has been waiting for you!

We first met in 1965 when you were Uncle John's girlfriend. For 60 years, you have shown our family only unconditional love, and you were always the first one there when we needed help. I am going to miss our phone chats, and all the stories you saved up just to tell to us! God saw you were getting tired, and Uncle John was getting impatient, so He took you home. I am happy that you are together with him, because that's where you belong.

We will be forever grateful for having you in our lives, we will miss you, but we will catch up again further down the road! Love you always, Nephew Harry II, and Kirsten.

“ Marcia was my next door neighbor for about 7yrs. She always told me I was the best neighbor she had and I said the same. She was a good Catholic woman and we're shared our common faith. She had a wisdom that was wisdom and was a wealth of information. You will be missed. God bless your family. Peace.
