“ My condolences to Marge's family. She was such a very precious lady. It was always a pure delight to run into her at our local quilt shop. We would laugh at both having bought the same pieces of fabric, and I have many pieces that she gifted to me that bring her to mind every time I see them. She was a blessing among us. 🌸💗

“ The Andreae girls and the Fitzgeralds could go on and on with stories about our mothers' friendship. It was a fixture of our lives growing up. Two very active, busy households to run - Marge and Ginny relied on each other in good times and bad. Blessedly, the memories will be mostly full of laughter, and special gratitude for a deep bond. Marge made our home more beautiful with her artistic talent - the most exquisite stencil work imaginable. She made Mom's final maternity wardrobe, and is Teddy's godmother. We all loved her. My condolences to all the girls and their families.

“ I send my deepest sympathies to the Andreae family. I have such fond memories of all of you and our St. Edward's years. I, too, remember your mom's beautiful shop, and more importantly, her beautiful work.

Many years ago, my mom took sewing lessons from your mom, where she was blessed to be learning on a Viking. My mom found sewing frustrating but with your mom's guidance, gave it the college try. She would share of that experience, always with a laugh, that Marge, who was as frustrated with her as mom was with sewing, had admonished her with "Mary Kay, an idiot could sew with one of these."

Suffice it to say I ended up with an outfit, the legs of which where too short and had to be lengthened with a artificial cuff that matched the navy blue paisley shirt, changing its look entirely. I know I wore it a time or too, but not without duress. ;) Hugs to all of you as you traverse life without your lovely mom. May you find peace in the many happy memories of her 92 years.

“ My heart breaks to see this. I'd need a large volume to even scratch the surface of the lovely, talented, angel that is Marge. I met her many years ago when I visited Port Huron for the first time. I became great friends with Patty and Carol and added myself as another daughter. Fred and Marge opened their home to me on many occasions and I loved them like a daughter loves her parents. I remember the shop that Marge had that was decorated so enchantedly with its fabrics of wonderful colors and the life size playhouse. Her talent was like the Midas touch because there was nothing she couldn't make, sew or create. Her kindness was a template I tried to follow in my own life. She passed on her joy, kindness and talents to others as well as her equally blessed daughters. In my 70 plus years I've never run across another person like Marge. All these years I've carried around a dedicated and signed copy of the book Disciplines of the Beautiful Woman. It's the only physical present I have from Marge. To me it's priceless. I love you Marge now and forever. Thank you for the wonderful memories and teachings I have today because of you. God has you now and I look forward to seeing you again. All my love forever...
