“ I never know where or how to truly start this, but I do know that I miss you immensely. It's been six years since you've been gone and I still have a difficult time coping with it. Your absence has left a void in my heart that can't be filled. There's not a single day that goes by that you are not on my mind and that I wish you were still here. I promise to keep your memory alive for as long as I live. I love you with my whole heart and I'd give anything in the world to have you here with Mom and I. I know God's timing is always perfect I guess he needed you more so he could add you to his group of Angels. #MySistersKeeper

“ *On this journey of life, you will grieve.
You will grieve people who are still alive, as well as those passed on.
You will grieve shattered dreams and you will grieve versions of yourself, and others, you had to break free from. But that’s okay.
In this life nothing lasts forever but with that same truth comes the knowledge that all pain will lose its bite too and great new things will miraculously emerge.
Wonderful new people who shine light into your soul will come on in, if you leave space.
And as long as you cry when you must, laugh when you can and love those you have every day that your little broken heart still beats, you will be okay.
You will be okay*

“ In our darkest moments, we don't need solutions or advice. What we yearn for is simply human connection—a quiet presence, a gentle touch. These small gestures are the anchors that hold us steady when life feels like too much.

Please don't try to fix me. Don't take on my pain or push away my shadows. Just sit beside me as I work through my own inner storms. Be the steady hand I can reach for as I find my way.

My pain is mine to carry, my battles mine to face. But your presence reminds me I'm not alone in this vast, sometimes frightening world. It's a quiet reminder that I am worthy of love, even when I feel broken.

So, in those dark hours when I lose my way, will you just be here? Not as a rescuer, but as a companion. Hold my hand until the dawn arrives, helping me remember my strength.

Your silent support is the most precious gift you can give. It's a love that helps me remember who I am, even when I forget.

“ Some people survive and talk about it. Some people survive and go silent. Some people survive and create. Everyone deals with unimaginable pain in their own way, and everyone is entitled to that, without judgement.

So the next time you look at someone's life covetously, remember... You may not want to endure what they are enduring right now, at this moment, whilst they sit so quietly before you, looking like a calm ocean on a sunny day.

Not really.
Things, people , they always go away, sooner or later. You can't hold them, any more than you can hold moonlight.
But if they've touched you, if they're inside you, then they're still yours.

“ Hey my sweetest Angel ❤️ Today was my first day back to work after 9 days off. I swear the first day back is always the hardest, but I always get right back into the swing of things, like I didn't miss a beat. Although I spent most of my vacation taking mom to the doctors throughout the week I was still somewhat able to get some much needed rest and relaxation and I'm grateful for that. It honestly couldn't have come at a better time. This morning started off a little rough, but I had a pleasant surprise from my manager and supervisor before my shift ended. Like I said I always wonder if I'm doing a good job and if it's ever being noticed. Today my bosses gave me a card with a meaningful message and a $100 gift card. A little recognition and appreciation go a long way and make all the efforts and hard work worth it. I'm so thankful I inherited mom's work ethic, I'm even more thankful to her for making and molding me into the woman I am.. I love you beautiful with my whole heart always and forever 🎶📦

“ Hey there my sweetest Angel.. I'm on vacation this week, it honestly couldn't have come at a better time. I was in dire need of some rest and relaxation. I only been off one day when my employees started texting me telling me how much they miss me and can't wait for me to come back and how much they appreciate me. What a validating moment for me. I already knew I worked hard, but some days I questioned whether I was making a difference, could anyone else see the efforts I made or was it all in vain?! I've seen subtle signs that they were grateful for me, bur today when 2 of my employees contacted me it proved to me that I was doing something right. Literally brought a tear to my eyes as I discussed it with mom.. Everyday I get up I work hard and I try to give the day and the people in it my best even if it means running myself ragged.. It really does give me a sense of purpose even if most days are stressful and overwhelming. Tomorrow I take mom to a specialist out of town and then myself, mom, and Dottie will stop in and visit with Dawn and AL for a bit. Please bring safe travels our way and as always watch over us especially mom. I sure do worry a lot about my special lady.. I love you forever and always my Angel ❤️

I just want to say on the behalf of Mindy's family. I know how hard they tried to help Mindy. It's a struggle when someone you love has an addiction. It was so hard on them trying to help and support her and unfortunately everything they did, to help her, didn't have the outcome that they all hoped for. If you didn't care for the person, I'm sure you would do nothing at all to help but I know they love her and they did everything in the power to help. I know personally that my nephew was an addict for many years. Starting with his mom we all did everything we could to try and help him. He went missing for a couple years, and we all had no idea where he was or what the outcome could've been. Thankfully, he finally came back to us, and he proved to us that he was clean. He has been clean for over five years now. That's one person who made it and unfortunately not too many do. That's why I am saying that you can support, love, struggle and do what you can for your loved one. But in the end it was their decision. So it's just so unfair that someone would say that Mindy's family did not help her. People have no idea what a family is going through especially when you don't know the family. Mindy, I know you are at peace and your family is still standing beside you 100%.💔😭💔

A part of me wanted to change the station because I could feel my face warming and my eyes filling with tears, but yet I couldn't take my hand off the wheel to do it. I believe in divine intervention, I believe in angels, and I believe you're always with me giving me signs and helping me through this thing called life. I know this is your way of showing me you're always with me. I have learned a very important lesson in life in a very hard way and that lesson is appreciate life and loved ones no matter what the circumstances are because nothing and no one is promised tomorrow let alone today. I also just wanted to share this beautiful picture frame Dawn had sent to me and I can't wait to put your picture in it and have it on my dresser. Alicia, you are a beautiful soul. You have such a loving heart ☐ There is nothing wrong with breaking down. That means you have feelings, true feelings from the loss of your sister. I lost my brother 43 years ago, and when I hear a couple different songs that relate to me and him after all these years, the tears will start flowing. When I go to clean his headstone. I have balled my eyes out every single time. When I seen that picture frame You and Mindy automatically popped in my mind. I'm so happy you like it. I love you girly ☐ 🥹

Alicia, you don't have to thank me!!! That's just what I do when I LOVE someone. But you already know that. I'm not a phony person. I tell it like it is. I don't lie! It doesn't get you anywhere. Like I said before when I met all of you I knew right away we would be family. Not many people can say that they have a small family that is filled with so much love. I'm old enough to be your mom but I feel like we are sisters/best friend's 💕💕 Just like my daughter. I'm sure you have noticed me calling her Sis for years 💕💕 I know if I'm having a bad day I can reach out to you. As you can to me. Just remember that we have so many memories that we laughed or cry about. That will always be! ☐ 💕

You are my sis and I know you are always here for me as I am for you. I appreciate you checking up on me everyday and always having my back literally through everything. You will always be so special to me

Alicia, I wouldn't have it any other way. We are two of a kind. Most people never experienced that. I love you and I'm always here for you.

I love you so much more! I wish Mindy could've gotten the opportunity to experience your love and light like me. You have such a beautiful spirt, one of a kind soul. I can't begin to express how much I appreciate you and your support. Since day one you have been around and never left our side. Thank you for always having my back. I am so glad you are a part of my life and look forward to being a part of your life for many more years to come. You'll have to meet up with the girls and I and have a night out on the town. I love you and I mean that with my whole heart. I know a good person/heart when I see one “ Sometimes a girl just needs her big sis.. I need you more than you know, more than I ever knew. I need you like I need the blood flowing in my veins and the air that I breathe. But with that said without thought I'd give my last breath so you could have yours. I'd go to war with the world over you and for you, I'd paint the town red for you (no explanation needed). Although I say this all the time, I'd choose you lifetime after lifetime as my sister, even if God chose not to go that route my prayer over you and for you would still be everlasting peace and happiness. I just wish you were here so we could grow together, grow closer together, and make more meaningful memories together. I just want to laugh with you one more time. I love you more than life itself and I will always be your protector.

“ My Beautiful Angel, where do I begin?! In just a few short hours it will be your birthday, you should be turning 43, but instead you'll forever be 39. My 39th birthday just passed and it was a difficult day for me because I felt so guilty that I will get to see past 39 and you won't. Although I believe in everything happening for a reason this is just one of those things that I just don't understand, and I'm still unable to accept. I miss you, my heart aches for you, and I crave your presence. Not a single day passes where I don't think of you. If I was given one wish in the whole world it would be to bring you back, to give you the life you've always deserved and never got to have. The only thing that gives me some sort of solace is that I now know you are no longer suffering and you're safe. I use to worry about you so much, both mom and I did and now we have a little peace because you're always with us. I love you Mindy and I know that one day I'll get to see you again and you'll be waiting at those pearly white gates with a smile ready to greet me. I know you always said to me that God has our lives planned out before we're even born and that he makes no mistakes, but I can't help but feel like taking you was the biggest mistake. I hope one day this gets easier because everyday I struggle without you. If there's one regret I have it's that I didn't tell you I loved you enough when you were alive. I'm sorry. I'm sorry it took losing you for me to realize just how important the people in our lives are, and how important it is to let those same people know. I can't even imagine growing old without you, it was always supposed to be us to the very end, us against the world. I only hope that you are experiencing the peace that was meant for you, I hope you are living your best afterlife and most importantly I hope you can now be happy. I know your always looking down on me, protecting me, watching me and I hope I am making you proud. I hope you're proud to be my sister because I'm proud to be yours. I love you with my entire heart, my entire being, and I will love you even after I take my last breath. You will forever be my one and only sissy and like I always say I'm so glad God chose you for me. If love was enough to bring you back I promise you'd be here right now. I

I agree Dawn it's truly disturbing.. I try to understand the actions of others only to realize some people need professional help, not the help I can offer. It is true that sometimes I did not understand the undeserved hardships I had to go through, but at the same time it proved to me that every problem has a solution, that every trial has its purpose, that after every end there is another beginning, that after every pain there is a consolation, that after every loss of self comes a recovery, that after every failure comes a success... ❤️

Alicia, I have the same song for my brother. I've seen Luke Bryan 5 times and he always sings a particular song, and the tears just flowing down my face every time. If I'm with one of my children, or all of them, they know what is about to happen at the concert and they all start hugging me. I also listen to it regularly. For some reason, it just makes me closer to him. It's just the little things that makes us so much closer to the ones we lost and loved so much. 💔❤️

Thank you Dawn.. I miss her so much it literally makes my heart ache 💔 I would choose her as my sister lifetime after lifetime and my mom as my mom lifetime after lifetime. Anyone who disrespects either of them will always be in my bad graces until I take my last breath. They are my entire universe and mean more to me than life itself. They give me purpose. I'm just so disgusted at the behavior of some people. When someone passes away they're supposed to be able to rest peacefully.. I don't want to hear negative things about them and I don't want drama brought to them. The things going on are so immoral, disgusting, offensive, and disrespectful. “ I can't begin to put into words just how much I miss you because no words can even come close to what I feel. I think of you everyday, but I try to not let myself dwell on those thoughts. It doesn't matter where I am or what I'm doing the mere thought of you and I succumb to tears.. I think about how I will be 39 next month and that was the age you passed away at.. It doesn't seem real because I feel that I myself am still a child in some ways and to know you passed away at such a young age seems so unfair to me. I think about life and getting older and not being able to experience life with you or grow old with you and it literally breaks my heart into a million pieces. My heart aches for you. I miss you so much, I swear I'd give my life so you could have yours back. Sometimes I wish I had your help with mom because sometimes it can get overwhelming being the person everyone relies on. The pressure can get a bit much, but I know I'm capable of handling it all I just wish I had your help. I know mom misses you even though she doesn't talk about you much, but I think it's to keep her from crying. In just 2 months your birthday will be here.. I just keep thinking about how you should be turning 43 and how you will never get to see past 39. I just wish things were different, I wish you would've had children because I truly believe if you had it would've changed your life for the better, and I wish you knew then how incredibly loved you were and still are. I wish many things for you and I'm sorry I had to give you tough love. I battle with myself everyday about whether I did the right thing or not. You always told me that God had our lives planned out for us before we were ever born and that everything happens for a reason. That has always stayed with me and I try to think of that when I start getting angry that you aren't with us anymore. I know God's plans far exceeds our own and I really do try to put all my trust in him and lean on his understanding and not my own. Some days are easier than others though. Most days I just put myself into robot mode to keep from breaking.. I love you so much and I look forward to the day I can see you again and hug you and tell you face to face how much I love you..I wish I would've told you that more.. I'm sorry I failed you.

“ 3 years ago today you were taken from us, that's 1,095 days without you. It still doesn't feel real. Everyday I think of you, everyday I miss you, and everyday I mourn you. A piece of me died with you that day. I can only hope that you're at peace now.. All I know for certain is that it doesn't get easier, you just have to force yourself to cope to prevent yourself from entering into a dark place. I wish you were still here, I wish you could've had a fulfilling life, I wish we could've grown old together.. I just miss you so much.. You really don't know the meaning of a moment or a person until it's a memory. I love you Mindy and I can't wait to see you again one day..

“ Today marks 3 years years since you've been gone, 1095 days since I've saw you. Not a day goes by where I don't think of you everyday, not a day goes by where I don't mourn your absence, not a day goes by that I don't wish you were here. I miss you immensely, so much my heart hurts. I'd give my life for yours if it were possible. It doesn't get easier, I've just learned to cope and although I think of you frequently I try so hard to not get lost in my thoughts because I know it's going to break me down. I hope you are finally at peace though. I know I'll see you again one day, but in the meantime please continue to watch over mom and I. I love you more than anything in the world.

“ Hey there Beautiful! In less than a hour you will have been 42.. I wish you could be here to celebrate another year of life. I could go on and on about how unfair life is, but it wouldn't do me any good. I miss you, I think of you daily, I love you, and I wish you were here. Happy Heavenly Birthday, I hope you continue to rest peacefully..

“ You've been coming to me in my dreams, I guess this is your way of telling me your birthday is approaching. Don't worry I haven't forgotten, I could never forget. It's one of the hardest days for me aside from the day you passed. I swear it doesn't get easier. Every single day I think of you, but I try to push those thoughts aside to keep from crying. Life has been tough and I wish you were here to help get me through it. Ironic I say that because I wasn't there for you when you needed me the most. I'm sorry for being a terrible sister, I wish I could do it all over again and do things differently because I would if it meant I could have you back. I love you so much and all I really want is to have you back.. My Angel

All I want for my birthday is you and I hate that I can't have that. I wish you were here, but you already know that. Without you, today there is no joy it is just another day. I love you!

“ Tomorrow marks your 2 yr passing. May 25th will never be an easy day for me.. It's a day I wish I could put out my mind, a day I wish never happened, and a day I wish I could undo.. I wish you could've experienced life in a different light, I wish you could've prospered and had a fulfilling life.. I wish you could've experienced motherhood, and I could've experienced being an auntie, and mom could've experienced being a grandma. You were so good with children, you would've made a wonderful mother. You were so nurturing and I admired that about you.. I still can't wrap my head around the fact that you're gone, I don't understand and it makes me angry. I know I shouldn't be because you are no longer suffering and I can only pray you are now at peace.. You once told me that everything happens for a reason, that God has our lives planned out before we're even born and those words have stuck with me forever.. I know you admired things about me and I also know you probably didn't think I admired anything about you, but I did more than you know. You were so strong, you were such a survivor and you always made a way.. Mindy I admire all of that about you and I wish I had those same qualities.. I miss you so, so, so much and I think about you EVERY SINGLE DAY, but you already knew all of that. I love you so, so, so, so, so much and that will NEVER change. You when passed away a piece of me died that day because a piece of my heart is no longer here and you are that missing piece.. Thank you for all the memories and the experiences and for always being there for mom and I. I know you battled with inner demons and that happened to be your demise, but that doesn't define the beautiful person you were on the inside and out. Thank you for the biggest gifts of all, because of you I have my Junior, my Princess, and my Kayla. They were all brought into my life because of you and I'm so grateful for that and for them. I love you beautiful ❤️❤️

“ I'm missing you so much in fact I miss you every single day.. I know you're in a much better place, but selfishly I wish I still had you here, I wish things could be different. I love you more than I can put into words and my only regret is that I wish I would've told you that more. I loved you then, I love you now, and I will love you forever and always.. Please continue to watch over mom and I ❤️

“ The sound of her laugh will always be with me. She had a great one and a memorable one. I'm so grateful I got to see her again at Christmas when she came to my house. She was loved by us all. Truly tragic to lose her so young but I'm confident she is in a better place. Miss you girl... 💕

“ I have so many memories with Mindy from childhood to being grown. One of the funniest ones i have was when we was kids i was staying at my aunts place. I was sleeping with Mindy on the top bunk. She was by the wall and i was on the edge. Well i was trying to get comfy and lifted the blanket while doing so. Needless to say she farted around the same time and i got hit with that big cloud of stench. When that hit me i almost fell out of bed. She grabbed a hold of me then proceeded to tell me " i told you not to lift the blanket". We recently was talking about things this story came up. We laughed so hard about it and she again told me " i told you not to lift the blanket". I also remember when we walked down the road as we got older. I had a walkman and the new cassette single of Tha Crossroad by bone thugs. We listened to that song over and over taking turns listening to it. She and I both said that was our song. I will truly miss you my cousin. I love you.
