“ It's difficult to choose but one memory out of our 48 years of being best friends. We've shared the best and worst of times together, never an angry word and too many laughs to count! But I know Melody would agree our 1984 family motorhome vacation to Florida that included her VIP Tupperware meeting would definitely be a highlight! We still laugh about all of the experiences we had taking the "scenic route". Melody diligently kept a diary throughout the trip.

We got lost in the West Virginia coal mine mountains and spent the night on a dirt road and woke up to the engine not starting, and Joe complaining that he didn't have a toothbrush of all things.

Another Big highlight of the trip was when we got caught spending the night in Cherokee national Forest, North Carolina in a near flood evacuation and mudslides.

Minor things included driving 100 miles and forgetting to put the steps up on the motorhome,

Also in High Point, Virginia we decided to drive up to the top of A mountain... I was deathly afraid and Melody was holding my hands all the way up!

We spent the night at the top of that mountain and Accidentally put our trash out for the night attracting bears to our door... Trust me this was only the tip of the iceberg of our trip.

I could go on and on with all the memories we've shared together in every day life over 48 years. I will miss her every day, I was blessed with having the most beautiful, positive, loyal, fun best friend ever. You will always be in my heart melody. I just wasn't prepared to say goodbye this soon to you. As we always ended our conversations

....."love you"
