“ Michael came to my house and cleaned when I became disabled. He was very thoughtful and helped out when I had projects around the house. I remember that he painted my whole house and did a great job. I miss him and his wife Jennifer who were good friends.

“ Michael Sam Hreha will forever be in my heart. I met him many years ago when I was 16 when I first met my husband Ken along with his whole family. He was kind, funny, and full of life. A stinker at times but very loving. We had Wonderful long talks about life and how to stay positive even in difficult times. He was very wise in many ways and spoke with conviction holding nothing back. His spirit will live on and I know he is watching over all of us now as he is united with his wife Jennifer in Heaven.

Love you Dear Michael

“ Michael was a loving person and left a lasting impression on many people. I have many fond memories of fooling around with each other. We would try to jump out and scare each other, aside from pranks we had many lovely talks as well. Michael truly saw the world as it was and wanted there to be less suffering. He was kind hearted and enjoyed making people smile. I will truly miss our late night talks, his big hugs, and loving and encouraging words. I now fondly remember him constantly encouraging me for going to school... I was always "doing good" in his eyes and he often told me to stick with it, or in his words "keep it up." I cherish those words now...

“Michael already our home feels lonely without you. You were my brother-in-law, but you were more than that you were a friend. You watched over all of us and strived to make us all happy weather it be making us a pot of coffee each morning with a note written saying “God bless our family” or by helping Neil with his latest project. You gave of yourself completely. We will miss hearing the latest headlines over dinner or see you peddling on your bike in the neighborhood. You were truly irreplaceable. May God bless you in your new life in heaven. You will be missed. Love, Kathy
