“ Tomorrow will be hard cuz your not gonna be there with me but this is for you dad. To celebrate your 60th birthday and just celebrate what a wonderful person you were. I promise Ill try my hardest to start listening and following through on the things you tried to teach me while you were still here. I wish we had just one more Christmas with you. I wish you were going to be here to see the boys grow up and see Jordan graduate. He is starting high-school next year and I sure could of used your guidance when it came to raising a teenage boy. I miss you so much it hurts to think most days about you not coming home. I wish I just had a little more time with you....actually A LOT more time. Putting so many things off thinking we had more time together..I know we will see eachother again but I wish I could have you here with me now..Please watch over me Justin and the boys, especially Jordan and Jay..Hope you would be proud of me and just send me a sign if you think Im doing something wrong. I, happy your home with me before your birthday and Christmas. And somehow tell Liz to come home...Love you always.

“ I’m really sad that I didn’t spend any time with uncle Mike. Too many years passed without seeing him but I still always thought about him and loved him. I remember uncle Mike being quiet lol I wish our Pomeroy family could do something a couple times a year so we don’t lose contact and actually become close. I have so many cousins, aunts, and uncles that I barely even know anymore but would love to become closer. Rest In Peace uncle Mike, I love you

Your niece,
Lisa

I agree Lisa. I think with dad passing it made me realize how much family we do have and over the years everyone has went there separate ways :(so many people I barely know. We should start getting the BIG family together starting this summer.

“ Uncle Mike has been a part of my life for as long as i can possibly remember. From me being a child watching him and my grandpa get SO into Mario golf 64. You would think those 2 were in a real live PGA tournament LOL. To me being a kid having barbeques every weekend over the summer and uncle mike always being there, playing horseshoes, talking and having a good time with everyone. To me being a teenager and needing somewhere to live. Uncle Mikes doors were wide open and he welcomed me in like one of his own grandkids. To me being an adult with kids of my own and uncle mike loving them the way he loved all of us. It's the small things I'm going to miss the most. The sound of his laugh and his smile. Watching my son reach for uncle mike because he reminded him so much of my own grandpa. Even going to see him in the hospital and just hold his hand while he slept and be by his side for a little while. I'll always be heartbroken that my baby girl never got to meet him but I know he will always be watching over the whole family because that's just the man he is, his whole family meant the world to him especially his kids and grandkids. I'll love you and miss you for the rest of my life Uncle Mike.

“ Mike was always my favorite cousin. We always looked forward to summer because the Pomeroy's were coming to visit. We had so much fun together. Mike was just a great guy and even though I hadn't seen him for years the family bond was always there. We will miss him dearly. Wayne White

“ Dad would wake the boys up the earliest he could Christmas morning even if it meant I just got done wrapping all the presents and JUST set them under the tree. One of his happiest Christmas's was when he had all his kids and grandbabies under one roof. A 3 bedroom house with all 9 of us living under one roof.
