“ Mike and I worked together for a few years and did the controls project at Selfridge. Mike joined my partner Rick Arnold and I as the Journeymen to a series of dates at the Patriot Pub at Selfridge. We played there for it's final day in existence. Rick passed away earlier this year. I was so shocked to hear of Mike's loss, but so happy that I got the time I did making music with him. Rest easy Mike. Thank you for sharing your gifts and talent with us all.
