“ My grandma was the love of my life. She raised me like I was her own. I had the best childhood memories with her and my grandfather. From traveling around the world, to cooking and almost burning the house down. Birthday parties and sporting events, you name it, she was a part of it. She supported me in everything I did and everyone I loved. I remember getting her to dance to r.kellys music and even attempted the tootsie roll! Lol She was the most loving caring person you would ever know in life. She loved to feed you, Over Feed you, but her cooking was amazing. She also enjoyed eating out. It was a regular thing after our weekly church routine every Saturday at St Stephen's. I could sit here and write a book about the amazing moments Ive shared with this amazing woman! One thing I know for sure is that she has her wings and is finally flying high in heaven with my grandfather, her mother and her daughter. I will always teach my children the valuable lessons Shes taught me, and I forever keep her sprite alive! I love you grandma. I promised you you wouldn't go back to that nursing home! Your with grandpa now. I love you and miss you already. Love your Shanny ba'na-ne
