“ I am missing brother Nick and I LOVED the Blue Sky, Willie Nelson song and the Wonderful Life (?) song. Both were played at Nick's memorial service. I can picture Nick traveling down the road, on the Journey he is on and singing another of Willie Nelson's songs that he enjoyed, "On the Road Again - like a band of gypsies we go down the highway."

“ Gone from Our Sight

We are standing upon the Lake Huron shore. A tall ship at our side spreads his white sails to the morning breeze and starts across the vastness of Lake Huron. He is an object of beauty and strength. We stand and watch him until at length he hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the lake and sky come to mingle with each other.

Then someone at our side says: "There, he is gone!"

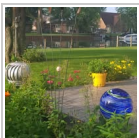

"Gone where?"

Gone from our sight. That is all. He is just as large in mast and hull and spar as he was when he left our side and he is just as able to bear his load of living freight to its destined port.

His diminished size is in us, not in him. And just at the moment when someone at our side says: "There, he is gone!" There are other eyes watching him coming, and other voices ready to take up the glad shout: "Here he comes!" By Henry Van Dyke
