“ When Randy met and married my long time friend, Ann, my husband and I knew we had a fun foursome. We shared many nights at their house playing games, eating, and drinking Randy's delicious and very potent homemade wine. He even got me to to like venison and fried perch! We called each other our BFF's. I always referred to him as the guy who could do anything, as shown in all the improvements he did to their houses. What I liked best was the big warm bear hugs he gave to us whenever we saw him. Sean and I will miss him ❤️ He will continue to watch over his "Annie" as Sean and will also. Prayers to all his family and friends.

“ Randy was the best man when I married his big brother Tony in 1992 . I remember Randy calling on 📞 and being all excited about a Fleetwood Mac song titled Rhiannon ,Randy thought it was saying Breanna instead of Rhiannon . He was excited cuz Breanna is his nieces name . It burst his bubble . We shoulda just let him be right ! Good memories and good laughs are priceless . Best brother in law . RIP love 💕Patricia

“ Sending love and hugs to you and the family. My favorite memories of Randy all center around him working outside, always industrious, always creating, always with his dogs and always willing to lend a kind word/action. Rest in peace, Randy, and thanks for mentoring us in the neighborhood. <3
