“ Ron was always looking out for the welfare of others. I was blessed to be one that he looked out for and while I listened to his advice- to my regret I did not always follow it. Ron had a wealth of knowledge from a lifetime of listening to others...listening was one his gifts from God and he did it so very well. Raye was a lucky women to have been loved so dearly by this man but the strength of that love makes his passing out of the physical world so very hard for her. I know though that she believes as I that he is helping to guide her and those that love her. And for that we are all blessed.

“ I am so thankful that I was able to get to spend time with you this Christmas, Uncle Ron. It was so nice getting to see you after so many years. I hope that you know that we all will be looking after Aunt Raye. I know that your passing has been hard on her. But, she is stronger than she thinks, and with a little help she will get by just fine. You are missed and loved by so many.

Raye...This is the toughest thing you will ever go through in your whole life. There is no alternative, so concentrate on making Ron proud of you. Remember every detail of every good time that you two had together. Instead of mourning his loss--celebrate his life, your lives together. I will always remember when he told me how much he loved you. So much so that it didn't embarass him to say it to someone he had only met a few days earlier. My heart is breaking for you, Raye. I wish I could take away your pain. I can only promise you that I will be there for you. When you are sad. When you are happy and when you just need to talk to someone. And to Ron I would like to say..." Ron, as you wait for Raye to join you, please know that she is in good hands and that she will be taken care of. She has good friends and family that love her dearly. Thank you for giving her the many, many years that she had with you. Now rest, Ron, you've earned it."....With love...Hal and Norma Schmidt it."
