“ Man the pain I feel right now is unspeakable. I keep thinking constantly of ways I could have helped you. I miss you so much. I know we weren't as close in the last few years as we've always been. If I only knew. I know the pain you were living with everyday. Your smile was so contagious. It seems like just yesterday when you were my annoying little brother that always told on me now I would give just about anything to be annoyed by you again. The only thing that gives me comfort in this situation is that I know you're out there with Mom and her brother and that you finally get to enjoy life again even if it ain't here with us. Your chains are finally broken. I will honor you and try to help save this from happening to anyone else I love. I'll miss you everyday little brother until we're all together again.
