“ Robert C. Was my Dad & since he always wanted a sister & I was his 1st born. I was Daddy's girl!
Dad loved all nature & he lived life. He was very out going & fun loving! Around him there was never a dull moment!
He was inquisitive,playful,generous, charming & lively!
I have a number of fond memories of him in his younger days! The first my Grandma Reynolds shared was about the time he & His brother wanted to get baby skunks from a nest they found. Well his brother snuck out early & cleaned out the best. So all Dad got was one angry Mom & quite a stinky surprise!
Then there was the time in early Spring in Virginia he had a competition with me to see who could find the most robins. I told him I could & he said he would pay me a quarter for everyone I showed him. I promptly got my bird book out & he laughed & true to his word gave me the money!
The last memory I will share is the time he came to my elementary school to watch a presentation for February's important dates. I had written & acted in 3 skits for the various key dates. It was wonderful he came to share my important moment! I was so proud of him! I learned that day he even had a wonderful singing voice! He was my hero that day & that is how I shall always remember him!
Bye for now Dad until later. Thanks for taking care of Perry for me!

“ Bob was a wonderful storyteller. He would share adventures from his childhood of deer hunting with Grandpa Charles Allen and of them fishing along the rivers and streams of Sanilac County. He described the scene and events in a way that put you right there with them. He added a little something extra about family and friends that made you want to know more. He was never boring. Rest in peace cousin. Marlene Hughes

*Hi Marlene,
Thanks for sharing! I never met you but Grandma always had nice things to say & she shared a very beautiful picture of you! I always loved going to see your Mom, Dad & Raymond. I hope that you, Raymond & families are doing well! Sorry we missed you when we were just up that way. It had been a long time. Love to you all!*
