“ One week ago today at 10:39 am I got one of the worst calls you can get, saying you were gone you had passed in your sleep. We got no good-byes and no farewells we all thought we had more time.

I keep replaying your voice mail from the day before you went north, it just said hey call me back when you get a chance ok (I did and we talked for a few) but its hearing your voice again that makes me stop and think of days ahead without you.....Gone to soon

I keep going over the call from when you were on your way saying mom don't listen to uncle Rob he has us lost and you hollering in the background I'm not lost been here a hundred times I'm just not sure what way to turn dammit lol.

Its a comfort and its painful but I will cherish the fact I have it forever. You will forever be in my heart and I'm glad we had the time we did, until we meet again know that I love you and will miss you everyday, your favorite sister. Sheila “ Uncle Robbie was not only our uncle but our friend. There are so many memories with him in them and so many that had yet to be made. I'm thankful I wrote you a letter and we had that talk about it. You will be greatly missed, forever loved and always in my thoughts and heart.

*Love you,
Bum (Sherrie)*

“ I tell this story to everyone. When John and I came to visit in 2000, Robbie pulled me aside and said, if he ever caught the Son of a B. that hurt my sister, I will burry him alive. And that is easy to do here in Mi. There is a of vacant land. I was scared to see everyone again since it had been so many years. But Robbie let me know that I am still his sister.
