“ I first met Ron when I used to walk the boardwalk in Algonac years ago he amazed me the way he could run that commercial weed whip with one arm. He Would stop for a smoke and we would talk a little I didn't know his name nor did he know mine . He worked very hard and didn't seem to let much bother him . Fast forward to 3-4 years ago I met him again at the range at the state park.I said I remember you when you worked for the city of Algonac you did a damn good job.You should have got hazardous duty pay for hitting the dog bombs with your weed whip that lazy people didn't pick up. We had a laugh and the next few years we had some good laughs. He became Ronnie to me it is a loving friend's name. Times when he would go by drinking his coffee from speedway and not stop. The next time I'd see him I would say don't you love me anymore.I would give him a hug once in awhile. Now here is why I grew to love and respect Ronnie. He told me how he lost his arm and did it with out self pity. He didn't complain when he was losing his toes. He didn't complain about going to dialysis. We could still find something to joke about as he drank his speedway coffee. What A GOOD MAN he made the best of every situation that i know of in his life. So glad i got to know you better. We will have a coffee together some day. Proud to call you FRIEND, LEO
