In Loving Memory of Rory Vincent Horan

Rory was a very kind and fun loving man with a great sense of humor. He was adventurous and tech savvy. Everywhere he went he left a legacy of love with that most contagious smile of his.

Rory's favorite thing to do was to spend time with his family, mostly his beautiful son, Jack and stepson, Brandyn. When they were together they were inseparable. A beautiful love to witness.

He also enjoyed riding his motorcycle, Comic-Con, WWF, Anime and Magic cards. Rory won several trophies in Magic card competitions and later became a judge for this passion.

Rory was a Rehabilitation Specialist for 15 years. He worked with people with various disabilities to help them live independently. There he gained a special friend Brian Larson, they became best buddies.

Rory is survived by his son, Jack Robert Daniel Horan and stepson, Brandyn Mark Thomas Hubble, mother, Sandra K. Horan, father, Paul R. Horan, siblings: Angie, Sean, Tara, Ryan (Symonia), nieces and nephews: Madison, Colby, Logan, Lena, Gwen, Nora, Kaia, Kora and Kira, along with several aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents: Gerald and Delores Thomas and Paul and Gloria Horan, cousin, Amanda Rae Metivier.

“ With the day approaching that a lay my love to rest, all the memories flood my mind. All the good, the bad, and everything in between. There are still moments where I want to call him. Tell him about my day or even just to hear his voice. So much has happened that I wish I could fill him in on. He was my rock. My shoulder to cry on when things got hard. The last conversation plays in my head over and over again. "Don't worry. When I beat this stupid cancer, I'll take you on that date I been wanting to take you on.". All I kept telling him was that I didn't want to go on some silly date. That all I wanted was to marry his silly butt. He was so funny, so flirtatious that day. Now all I can think about is going on that silly date. Taking that motorcycle ride, and walking down the aisle to become his wife just like we talked about. I can hear him now laughing, telling me how beautiful I am. How I'm a goddess in his eyes. I love him so much. I will always love him. ❤️ Rest easy now my love. Thank you for the wonderful years of being able to know you and have you in my life. I love you Rory V. Horan. ❤️
