“ You can't know how much you are going to miss someone until they are gone.

Steve and I became friends in the mid seventies having met through our place of employment.

Sharing many of the same interests in music, sports, working out and more importantly our shared values.

After living together for a year we went our separate ways, but through the years we were able to occasionally get together and managed to maintain contact with each other.

Steve was just a very good man.
