“ Steve was a close friend who I came to trust after graduating high school. We spent many hours talking to each other and playing Madden... We fished and hunted and worked together. I think we connected so well because we both understood our time here on earth was limited... we both have felt we were spiritual beings not of this earth and our human bodies were quite alien and awkward. We raised our families together and shared our joys with each other... Steve and I parted ways after our relationships within our circle fell apart but we still greeted each other as old souls when our paths did cross afterwards. One of my favorite memory's of him included 3 Steel Reserve's and a Buick LeSabre in the bottom of a ditch outside my house where he spent the night.... makes me laugh... Steve was a good friend... I saw him try his best for his wife and kids. Gonna miss you bro.
