“ Toni loved her daughter and grandson so much they meant everything in the world to her.
She was a very caring person and enjoyed random conversation with anyone.
The loss of her brother John at young age of 19 in 1974 in which she was very close was devastating to her. Her whole life she never recovered from the tragedy that had occurred.
A loving person with emptiness in her heart followed by the loss of her father and mother in her later years. So many days, months and years had gone by that the loneliness she felt would never go away. Though she tried in many ways to make the hurt go away it always returned.
Your battle is over my love , you are now at peace and have joined your family.
A life lesson learned I now understand the pain you have carried through all those years and how bad it hurts. Wish I could have told you goodbye and how much I loved you - yes now I understand what it feels like

I was her second grade teacher. We reconnected last summer and had lunch together. It was delightful for both of us. We didn't have a chance.to get together again, as we hoped. May she Rest In Peace.
