“Nan, how can I possibly begin to express the emptiness in my heart? You opened your arms to me and held me tight. You walked with me through some of the hardest times of my life. You helped welcome Cole into this world and became his nana. His everything. I want so badly to be able to wake up from this and get Cole dressed and come downstairs to be with you. You'd give Cole sips of your drink or share your yogurt. You helped comfort me and helped me see that I would soon see my grandmother again in the new system. For 3 years you have been a part of our daily lives. Now that you are gone, I feel such a void that hurts with a pain that I've never felt before. I must hold on to Jehovah's promise that I will see you again. In a world where you are not in pain, and happy and smiling like you always were. Thank you for giving me Devon. You raised an amazing man. Thank you for loving me. I love you.
