“ I remember Wally's bible studies at his home, in the church, in the fellowship hall, and seeing the fruit of the spirit in his life, listening to teachings to his children, and, the love for his family was seen. He was a great mentor, teaching the understanding of the word of GOD, giving holy guidance from the word of GOD, and a good example of discipleship. Wally will be missed by many people.

“ My Grandpa was always so loving. He would let me fall asleep on the couch and pick me up and bring me to the room. I'd wake up every time but it was my favourite moment. He built us a tree house in the backyard and set up a swing in the front yard. He was an amazing grandfather. He always insisted on eating at American Grill. And we spent hours watching gunsmoke together. He never missed an opportunity to tell us he loved us, and always gave us a kiss goodbye. He loved my grandma with his whole heart. I hope one day to have a husband as loving as he was. And he loved the Lord and His teachings. He clung to the word and was an example for us all. We can all have comfort in knowing that God is saying "Well done, my faithful servant". I love you too.
