“ Such a sweet, friendly man who loved being with his family! Always a smile on his face. In reading his obituary I was reminded of a time, it was last year, when we were over our dear neighbors Bill and Elaina's for Halloween or Christmas cookies. Mr. Cavataio had my little Luke captivated as he made him a handkerchief bunny! He just thought it was the coolest, and I thought it was so fun and so cute. His smiling face is my last memory of him and one we will hold onto...sending our love and prayers to his entire family. I can visualize him looking down on us all with that warm smile, having fun and feeling great with family and friends that have passed before him....❤️🙏

“ Another wonderful man gone from the ROMEO club. I truly loved Bill, I loved when he delivered papers for the Italian Tribune. Always had a smile on his face. Bill was always happy to help... two days before my mother died I asked him to come witness her sign her will, he jumped up from the breakfast table ready and willing! Such a wonderful guy with the dirtiest and funniest sense of humor... I will really miss him!

“ Uncle Bill's sense of humor. We would spend Christmas Eve with Uncle's family and they would come to my house. As I was getting their coats to leave Uncle Bill said we had a great time, we drank your wine, ate your food, took your money in poker and he asked so what are you doing tomorrow?
